

TOOL BARS—STOP THE INSANITY!!!!

What is a toolbar?

Toolbars are extra little add on programs that come with software or as part of a software download. They often perform functions like quick links to websites, emoticons, or search bars.

Toolbars can be good or bad.. It is important to know the difference. Good toolbars are the ones that come with web browser originally.... Like the favourites bar, menu bar or command bar. See example below.

If you see tool bars you need to remove them. As they will invite unwanted programs into your computer like "Search Conduit" and "Pc Pro Optimizer" ect.

Most often they can be removed by "right clicking" the toolbar and "unchecking" it. Alternately you can go to the control panel and uninstall it from the programs and features list.

Always be careful when installing a new program... If it asks if you want that toolbar.. Say no!

Make sure you run a malware scan after you have had a toolbar installed. (Malwarebytes is a good choice)
